Victor Seymour Infants' School

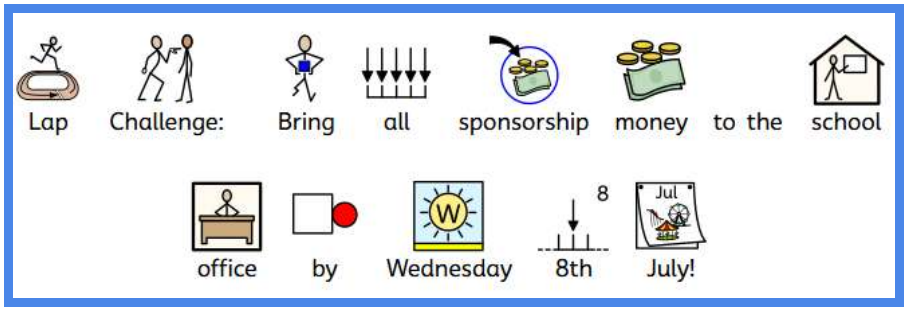
Newsletter 37: 3/7/26

Dear Parents, Carers and Guardians,

Thank you everyone for a wonderful week! Year 2's rehearsals for Peter Pan are in full swing and their singing is sounding amazing - we are all so excited to see your performances.

End of year reports for every pupil will be sent home next Wednesday. They will be sent to your email address.

Lap Challenge Complete!



Wise Owls

Wise owls are reflective. They use what they already know to help with new learning. They can talk about how new learning is getting better. Well done to the following children:
Isaac B, Olivia, Haneesh, Charlie, Layla, Rory, Amelia, Sadie and Amelia.

Personal Achievements

Caleb-Quincy for completing his Water Safety Code and taking part in the Original Flava Kids Caribbean Cooking class.
Harvey for his Kung Fu achievements.
Ally for climbing 311 steps to reach the top of The Monument in London.
Emma for her Stage Coach achievements.
Amal and Teo for swimming.

Congratulations to Hendrix and Queenie who were Flower girls at their nanny's wedding:

The following children were amazing Tough Tortoises last weekend when they took part in lots of challenging activities from archery, axe throwing, tunnelling, zip wires, abseiling and climbing walls at Beaver camp: Matthew Kirkup, Joseph Stark, Jessica Purcell, Kailan Neil, Alex Southerton, Lottie Stark and Jayven Neil.

Year 1 are incredibly grateful to Maria, the Community Champion at Asda, Sutton. Turquoise class wrote letters to a number of businesses in the local area, asking for support with resources- and Maria answered their call!

Thank you Maria and Asda!

SPORTS DAY

We have rescheduled sports week for Tuesday 7th July from 9:30-10:45 am, at Grove Park (weather permitting).

Stay safe and enjoy the weekend,
Samantha Morrissy

Online Safety: 5 simple steps to help children stay safe

1. Review safety, wellbeing, and privacy settings

Help children stay safe online by turning off location sharing and setting accounts to private.

Use privacy controls to limit who can send friend requests, send messages or comment on posts.

2. Check age ratings and platform features

While most platforms require users to be 13+, some features, like live streaming or messaging, may still be unsuitable.

Always review what's available and decide what's appropriate for your child.

3. Talk openly about social media

Have regular conversations with your child about what they're doing online. Ask who they're talking to, what apps or games they're using, and how different experiences make them feel.

Talk about what to do if something worries or upsets them and remind them that they can always come to you for help.

4. Encourage safe and thoughtful sharing

Teach children to ask themselves: 'Would I send this to my family?' If not, it's best not to share it online, even via private messages as these can be shared on.

Remind them never to share personal information like full names, school names, phone numbers, or live locations – and always to talk to you about who they're speaking with.

5. Support positive online experiences

Help children question what they see online and focus on positive body image.

Encourage them to understand that their worth isn't measured by likes or followers, but by who they are offline.
